

STAYING SAFE FROM ONLINE HARM

Most kids and teens are online daily, learning and staying connected. Yet, they also face serious risks, like sextortion and other types of online exploitation. Staying Safe from Online Harm (SSOH) is a supplemental module designed to educate and empower youth and the adults in their lives.

SSOH is an evidence-informed prevention curriculum that teaches educators, parents, caregivers, and other concerned adults as well as youth about online exploitation.

The module includes a training for adults and two 45-minute lessons they can then use to educate youth to recognize grooming and sextortion tactics, empower them to talk to safe adults and supportive peers, and teaches them where and how they can get help if it's ever needed.

SSOH is modeled on the evidence-based Childhelp Speak Up Be Safe core curriculum and was informed by world-leading child safety experts, educators, parents, and youth leaders.

Features & Benefits

- Available to anyone at no cost.
- Comprehensive adult training teaches educators or parents about online safety and how to facilitate the lessons.
- Fully scripted, engaging lessons with activities, embedded videos, as well as student and caregiver handouts.
- Developed with guidance and resources from renowned child safety experts and with input from youth and educators.
- Features a series of award-winning videos in which cartoon characters introduce topics in an age-appropriate way.

